Dust an enemy—Fine Particles of Dust Communicate Disease—Clean, Fresh Air Great Requisite of Life and Health—An Egg for Baby—Cold Cream—Cooking a Steak—Cocoanut Kisses—French Lettuce Salad.

DUST IS AN ENEMY.

Countless discourses have been made to the public on the vital necessity of guarding against unhampered circulation of dust, but there cannot be too many.

The woman who, for no other reason than to have a clean household, thoroughly dusts her house and sees that the sidewalk is washed at least once a week is on the safe side.

But there is a more important reason than "appearances" why the house should be free from dust. The fine particles of dust being breathed by humans is responsible for the general weakening of the race.

The most grave consequence of dust is, of course, the communication of disease, which is possible through this source. Where the dust is a by-product of manufacture the substance is usually brittle and, if examined by a microscope, will be found to be of irregular shape, the jagged projection being of hook form.

When dust of this character is breathed, it is caught in the lining of the mucous membrane of the throat and lungs, which is intensely tender and is in a state of titillating, fluttering movement all the time.

This dust may be expelled if it is not looked into the membrane as a crocheting needle hooks in a ball of yarn, but where it is not expelled for a time it leaves a small scar. Wherever there is a scar there is no flow of mucus, and in time the membranous lining becomes one great scar. This means, usually, tuberculosis. It is most common with stonecutters and metal workers, who must endure a great amount of dust.

In the household the danger is also great, for where dust is permitted to collect one may find an assortment of small particles of filth from the street. These particles may not, of course, be distinguished by normal vision, but that does not change their character nevertheless. A grain of dust is not a huge sandstone, but a great many grains of sand may make one. It is the same with dust.

That a house should be kept free from dust as a protection of the health is generally understood. But that dust is ruinous to the complexion is not so generally recognized, or, if so, is ignored.

The woman who cares for her complexion should see that all the fine particles which lodge in the skin pores are carefully washed away at least once a day. If one wants to see visualized a speck of dust clogging a skin pore just glance at a person afflicted with blackheads.

Remember: One of the great requisites of life and health is clean, fresh air—and this does not mean dust laden air.

In dress goods we have made an extra effort to have the very newest and best, with trimmings to match in every case.

Rich, bright colors predominate throughout the entire line.

BURTS

COLD CREAM.

Cold cream will remove that grease that seems to accumulate on the face when traveling in cars.

COCOANUT KISSES.

Beat whites of two eggs light with three-fourths cup sugar and one rounded tablespoon cornstarch. Set in warm water and cook a few minutes; add two cups grated cocoanut and one teaspoon vanilla. Drop in buttered pans; bake slowly.

FRENCH LETTUCE SALAD.

Sprinkle inner leaves of lettuce with salt and pepper. Add yolks of two hard boiled eggs with one to two tablespoons olive oil. Stir all together with two tablespoons white wine vinegar. Serve at once.

AN EGG FOR BABY.

Do you know how to quiet a crying child who is a dainty eater? If you have a fresh egg beat the yolk well in a bowl with two or three tablespoons powdered sugar; then beat the white to a stiff mountain and add, mixing the two. Put the cup before the child; give him a slice of bread to dip in it, with which he will make a yellow mustache, and become most highly contented. Would that all food for children could be as innocuous as this, for then there would be no convulsions and hysterics in the world.

Added to the above is further comment about foods which shock the nerves entering too largely into domestic life. Can you not see the child here described with his "yellow mustache" and his perfect happiness in being so daubed up? He is a thousand times better off than with an all-day suckling of glucose and a coal tar flavoring.

SHOW THIS BOOK TO YOUR FRIENDS

Let Them Know About This Great Opportunity Offered to Our Readers.

Those who have already secured their Panama books from the Standard should show them to their friends. Never before in the history of newspaper and book publishing has such an offer been made. The book is a work of art. It is called "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose" and is written by Willis J. Abbot, who is the author of many books of history and travel. This book is beautifully bound in tropical red velvet cloth, is twice as large as the usual size novel, and contains more than six hundred rare illustrations, many of which are reproduced from water color studies to full page size.

Your friends would indeed be proud to possess such a volume, and when it is made known to them that they can get it from The Standard for six cents, and that they can have it distributed they will quickly take advantage of the opportunity. At the present time it behooves all progressive people to learn all they can of this mighty achievement, for the great Canal will soon become a working factor among all the nations of the earth. Not only is the great engineering feat described in this book, but the country and people are shown, in every phase and from every angle, both in picture and prose.

Taken as a whole, the story is complete, and nobody could get a better understanding of the subject, even though months were spent in the Zone than could be gained by reading this interesting narrative.

In another column of this issue is printed a Panama certificate. Six of these certificates and expense amount shown therein will put you in possession of this $4 volume without further cost. Clip that certificate today.

Rivals Her Daughter in Youthful Beauty

(From Social Register.)

A well known society matron whose youthful beauty is so well preserved that she is regarded as her daughter's rival in this respect—though she does not pose as such—attributes her girl's complexion chiefly to two things. She says:

"I am convinced that creams, by overloading the skin and pores, tend to age the complexion. Mercorized wax has just the opposite effect. It keeps the pores clean, permitting them to breathe and removes dead particles of cuticle which are constantly appearing and which give the complexion that faded look. Whenever my skin begins to get the least bit off-color, I go to the drugist's for an ounce of mercorized wax; I apply this nightly, like cold cream, for a week or so, washing it off mornings. This is what keeps my complexion so fresh, white and velvety."

"The absence of wrinkles and flabbiness I owe to the use of a simple face bath prepared by dissolving one ounce of powdered salicylic acid in a pint of water with hazel. This keeps the skin 'tight' and firm."—Adv.

J. S. CRITCHLOW IS LOST TO BACHELORS

Salt Lake, Sept. 18.—Salt Lake lost the pennant, Ogden lost the Midland trail and the Republicans lost their fight against the tariff bill, but the Joneses of the world are comforted with the loss of John S. Critchlow by the bachelors of Salt Lake and San Francisco. The sad news was broken tearfully to the bachelors of San Francisco a few days ago by Major Charles E. Stanton, also well known in Salt Lake. Sly John Critchlow, the major sadly announced had been wed more than a month.

Thousands of bachelors in the following John Critchlow have always been ready to expect anything from him—anything except matrimony. They hold that a man who has been adviser to the sultan of Turkey, proprietor of a giraffe live stable in British East Africa, city recorder of Salt Lake and many other things more or less worthy of mention may be expected to do something extraordinary. Here is the sad story as told by the San Francisco Call:

"When you would marry, go to Marysville. At least that is the advice John S. Critchlow is giving his bachelor comrades of the family. For John went and did it himself, hence the advice and the surprise. 'Living John' can root at a ball game louder than the Alcatraz island men, and his deep bass is often heard at family parties, but of his life romance he said nothing."

"Since July 29 when he went motoring with Miss Myra Hallett to Marysville, he has kept his peace. He has smiled, rooted as of yore, sang his 'Maybe in the Golden Summer' song, read humorous papers at breakfast dinners, but of that trip to Marysville not a word."

"Nothing at all until he took Major Charles E. Stanton into his confidence. So the major last night arranged a dinner at the Cliff house where John got up and confessed."

"He said that he suspected Judge Lawlor was preparing to forsake his bachelor existence and that this gave him encouragement. In the course of his business—Critchlow is president of the King Coal company—he had to make a trip through the Sacramento valley. He persuaded Miss Hallett to accompany him."

"John had opened up his heart by the time Marysville was reached, but where was a minister to be found? 'Like Cincinnatus and General Putnam, a worthy divine was found in the field at his plow. It was a Thursday morning and the minister was cogitating his Sunday sermon close to nature."

"John persuaded him to leave the plowshare in the untimely furrow, doff his overalls, mop his brow and tie the knot. John says that he also had to dry his own."

"Miss Hallett is well known here in social circles and possesses beauty and charm. Major Stanton spoke a blessing in behalf of the members of the family, and at lunch today the toast will be 'Long life to Long John and his bride.'"

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we can simply ask at any drug store for "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. SHORTHAND

We don't teach the Gregg. Why? Because from its history in Utah, as given to us by the best of authority, it has been tried from one to five years in the following schools and discarded, viz: The A. C. and the B. Y. C. of Logan; The Weber academy and the O. H. S. of Ogden; the L. D. S. Business college and the Salt Lake High school; and the Snow Academy of Ephraim. Also the Salt Lake Business college and the Ogden Business, now defunct, taught the Gregg.

No. The Smithsonian does not teach the Gregg. It can't afford to. (Adv.)

RICHARD TRESEDER CALLED BY DEATH

Richard Treseder, aged 71 years, who built the first Weber county court house, died at the home of his son-in-law, W. T. Burton, 848 Twenty-sixth street at 7:30 o'clock last night. Death was due to general debility.

Born in Davenport, England, March 7, 1838, Mr. Treseder came to Utah in 1855, locating first in Salt Lake City, where he resided for twenty years, following the trade of a cabinet maker. He removed to Ogden in 1875 and engaged in business as a building contractor, one of his first undertakings being the construction of the first Weber county court house.

Mr. Treseder also claims the distinction of having first first gun of the first salaried for Governor Cummings, the first executive of Utah territory. For a number of years he was deputy clerk under Franklin D. Richards, clerk of Weber county.

Mr. Treseder is survived by the widow and the following children: Mrs. W. T. Burton, R. Will Treseder, Mrs. O. I. Read, Albert C. Treseder.

INDUSTRIAL LEADER IS REPORTED ILL

New York, Sept. 18.—William D. Haywood, Industrial Worker of the World leader, who was reported seriously ill here, has gone to Providence, Mass., in hope of benefiting his health. It was learned today. Haywood was said to have been very sick when he left this city. He has suffered a nervous breakdown and lost fifty pounds in weight, his friends say.

TWO DIVORCES ARE STARTED

In the district court yesterday afternoon two divorce cases were filed, the plaintiffs seeking separation on the grounds of desertion and failure to provide.

In her petition, Mrs. Belle Perkins alleges that she married Ira N. Perkins on October 23, 1893, since which time he has deserted her, and left her to make her own living. She asks for costs of suit and general relief.

Charlotte E. Van Alder complains that her husband, William Van Alder, for some time past has failed to provide the necessities of life and she desires a divorce. The plaintiff married the defendant September 12, 1911. Asks for divorce, Mrs. Van Alder seeks for costs of suit and general relief.

CONFERENCE IS HELD ON FREIGHT RATES ON LUMBER

District Forester E. A. Sherman returned last evening from southern Idaho where he spent the past two weeks in conference with lumber dealers and saw mill men regarding freight rates for lumber and timber over the various routes.

It is the intention of the forest service to aid as much as possible in securing favorable transportation rates for forest material and to that end the best efforts of the officers of the department are being directed.

Mr. Sherman has no further information to give out respecting his visit to the Gem state at this time. He will report to headquarters to advise the chief forester of the situation, after which a public report may be made from Mr. Grave's office in Washington.

BEEF CATTLE FROM THE RANGE SHIPPED TO MARKET

Adam Patterson, manager of the Vineyard Land and Stock company, stated that a shipment of 500 beef cattle was made yesterday from the ranch in Nevada, the second shipment for the season. The animals are grass-fat cattle and the prices paid are good.

The company will handle no feeders as it is demonstrated that good grass beef can be gathered from the range each year. The shipments this year show an average weight of 600 to be 1,123 pounds and steers over 1,200 pounds. No cows under five years of age are being shipped for beef.

MESSAGE FROM ROOSEVELT

Washington, Sept. 18.—Representative Hinebaugh of Illinois, chairman of the Progressive congressional committee, today brought to a conference of Progressive members of the house, a message from Colonel Roosevelt, endorsing the plans of the house Progressive for the next congressional campaign and renewing his declaration that no amalgamation of the Progressive party with the Republicans would be considered.

LOOKING OVER SITE

New York, Sept. 18.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels viewed today the proposed site for a navy yard in the Greenville section of Jersey City, to replace the present New York navy yard, which is said to be rapidly outgrowing its quarters.

HARRIMAN OFFICIALS VISIT TWIN FALLS

Twin Falls, Idaho, Sept. 17.—The largest and most important party of railroad officials of the Harriman system that ever visited this section of the state arrived here today in a "pullman" coaches, which passed through here at midnight last night going on to Buhl, the end of the line.

Leaving Buhl at 8 o'clock this morning the party went to Hollister and Rogerson, then on to Twin Falls, Salmon River tract, and returned to Twin Falls at 11 o'clock.

Upon their arrival the officials were taken in automobiles from the depot for a view of Shoshone Falls and intervening country. As they left this city a few minutes past noon, and the ride to the falls consumed an hour's time, their stay here was very limited.

The party included B. L. Winchell, director of traffic; also the following Union Pacific officials: A. L. Mohler, president; J. A. Monroe, vice president in charge of the traffic department; Gerritt Fort, passenger traffic manager; F. B. Choate, assistant general freight agent; S. B. Roth, district freight and passenger agent, San Francisco; W. D. Lincoln, assistant general manager; William Jeffers, superintendent of the Wyoming division; R. B. Miller, traffic manager Oregon-Washington R. R. & Navigation company; William McMurray, general passenger agent Oregon-Washington R. R. & N.; H. C. Nutt, general manager San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake route; F. A. Wana, traffic manager San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake route; E. Stenger, general manager St. Joe & Grand Island, and the following Oregon Short Line officials: E. C. Manson, assistant general manager; F. H. Knicker, passenger agent; general freight agent; J. A. Reeves, general freight agent; D. E. Burley, general passenger agent, and Joel Priest, industrial agent. Max Mayfield of Boise and S. P. Perrine of Twin Falls were guests of the officials from Salt Lake to Twin Falls.

The visit was a tour of inspection and also for the purpose of acquainting Mr. Winchell, the new traffic manager, with this part of the country, as stated officially, yet individual members interested that results of the visit would be more constructive work.

Citizens of Twin Falls are given every reason to believe that the gap will soon be closed between this branch and the Southern Pacific in Nevada, giving southern Idaho its much needed outlet to the south and markets of the west coast.

This is the first visit of Mr. Winchell and the majority of members of the party to the Twin Falls country. They said their stock of activities was wholly inadequate to their needs and found difficulty in appropriately expressing amazement and appreciation of the advance of the country in eight years.

Mr. Winchell was especially pleased with the appearance of this city, its clean streets, splendid people, and with the entire country. The party is going from here via Ogden to the Pacific coast and will return over other routes via Boise, in about three weeks. Mr. McMurray spent the remainder of the day as the guest of I. B. Perrine at Blue Lake. He said as he left this evening: "I feel that the carrying out of such intention must be presented in writing to the city recorder on or before the 2nd day of September, 1913, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of vote upon the adoption or rejection of the following proposed amendments to the Articles of Incorporation to-wit:

Article IV. The objects, pursuit, purpose and nature of the business of the Company is to conduct, pursue and carry on the business of owning and operating saw mills, flumes, shingle mills, planing mills and all kinds of wood working machinery; to own, operate, sell and dispose of lumber yards; to buy, sell and manufacture lumber, lath, shingles, sash, doors, boxes, and all other products manufactured from lumber; to own, operate, manufacture, generate, store, transmit, buy, sell and distribute electrical current for heat, light and power; and to erect, buy, sell, lease and otherwise acquire, operate and maintain electric light, heating and power plants; to purchase, own, acquire, encumber, sell and dispose of all kinds of real estate within or without the United States, either for the purpose of securing a supply of timber for the manufacture of lumber, or for the purpose of using such timber lands (when cleared) or other lands, for agricultural purposes of all kinds, and for the purpose of acquiring and using water of lakes and running streams for purposes of irrigation and supplying water for household and domestic consumption, watering livestock and for general irrigation purposes; to own, acquire, construct, operate and maintain irrigation systems of water works for the generation of electrical and other power, for general sale and distribution, and for the operation of its own mills, lighting, heating and power plants, and for the general distribution of water for sale and rental for irrigation, domestic and livestock purposes and for the purpose of irrigating and watering lands to this Company and other individuals or concerns; and to dispose of any part or parts of such irrigation and power systems and water rights in such manner as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine; to buy, sell, lease, distribute or otherwise dispose of water and water rights; to build transmission lines for light, heat, power, telephone or telegraph purposes and to acquire, buy, own and sell franchises and rights-of-way for any of the purposes herein mentioned; to own, buy, sell, encumber, or otherwise acquire or dispose of stock in other corporations with the right to exercise such stock ownership in the same manner as private individuals, and to have the right to conduct its business, in any or all of the states of the United States, or without the United States."

Said meeting is also to consider and act upon any and all matters which may properly come before it. D. C. ECCLES, President. HENRY H. ROLAPP, Secretary. Ogden, Utah, August 19, 1913.

TERRIBLE ITCHING OF SKIN TROUBLE

Small Red and Yellow Spots on Leg. Covered with Dry Scale. Had to Walk Floor Nights. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

R. F. D. No. 3, Clarkfield, Minn.—"My trouble was of long standing. It started with some small red and yellow spots about the size of a pin head on my leg and every morning there was a dry scale on top covering the affected part and when those scales were falling off the itching was more than I could stand at times. The first year I did not mind it so much as it was only itching very badly at times, but the second year it advanced all around my leg and the itching was terrible. I had to be very careful to have my clothing around the affected part very loose. At night time I often happened to scratch the sore in my sleep. Then I had to stand up, get out of bed and walk the floor."

"Then I read the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I wrote for a sample and got it. To my surprise I was feeling relief after the second application. So I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a five-cent box of Cuticura Ointment and when I had used them I was nearly over the itching. So I got another box and that healed it all up so it looked smooth and fine, but I kept on with the Cuticura Soap for six weeks and the cure was complete." (Signed) S. O. Gordon, Nov. 20, 1912.
